I like the story behind these because they were in another part of the house. They were . They didn't have writing on them. And then my decided to put his own spin on them which I thought was actually really really fun. And they have lived there . This is the window that I love having in the kitchen because we have a little garden back there. That's really really cute. Moving right along from the we're getting down into the little . I have the little Nespresso machine*. This is for tea. This is a really matcha machine. We have all the things we could possibly need here. A little Chamberlain coffee* which we love. That's my hexclad . I honestly... I like for everything to have its place. But like, as you can see, there's a lot sitting out which doesn't me because I almost like a slight bit of chaos to the kitchen. And now that I say that I'm debating whether or not I should have hid all this stuff, but... I'll take something out and then I'll put it in a new place and to put it back. I a lot in the kitchen, especially because it opens up into our so... even on *Super Bowl Sunday... we had a big Super Bowl party.
